

BUY BONDS AND STAMPS! Your money is needed to help finance the war.

THE BRISTOL COURIER

DAILY WEATHER REPORT
Moderate temperature and rain today.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO. 15

BRISTOL, PA., MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 22, 1942

Price: 2c a Copy; 10c a Week

ENEMY SHELLING OF OREGON COAST-LINE IS REVEALED BY FOURTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS; SIX TO NINE SHELLS LAND NORTH OF SEASIDE; NO DAMAGE NOR CASUALTIES

Shelling Came From An "Un-identified Craft," It Is Announced

OCCURS AT 11.30, P. W. T.

Firing Lasts About 15 Minutes; Follows "Nuisance" Raid by "Sub"

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—(INS)—Enemy shelling of the Oregon coast-line was revealed by Fourth Army Headquarters at San Francisco early today.

The Army announced six to nine shells landed in the area north of Seaside, Ore.

The shelling occurred at approximately 11.30 P. M. (PWT) last evening.

Continued On Page Four

First All-Night Blackout To Be Effective Tomorrow Night

PHILADELPHIA, June 22—(INS)—The first all-night blackout in the history of Eastern Pennsylvania will be staged from dusk tomorrow until dawn Wednesday, shading approximately 15,000 square miles, or one-third of the state, including Philadelphia and 30 counties with an estimated 5,000,000 residents.

Counties participating in the blackout test besides Philadelphia are: Delaware, Chester, Lancaster, Montgomery, York, Bucks, Berks, Lebanon, Dauphin, Adams, Cumberland, Perry, Lehigh, Northampton, Schuylkill, Carbon, Monroe, Luzerne, Columbia, Montour, Northumberland, Snyder, Union, Pike, Wayne, Lackawanna, Wyoming, Sullivan, Susquehanna, and Bradford.

At an undisclosed time, air raid sirens, factory whistles and fire bells will shriek the warning signals introducing a half-hour of total blackout during which a mantle of almost complete darkness is expected to shroud the area from the mouth of the Delaware to the headwaters of the Susquehanna.

Only industries engaged in essential war activities, defense training schools, public utilities, railways, air fields, radio towers and navigation lights will be unaffected. All traffic except trains will be halted.

A civilian army of almost 200,000 air-raid wardens, auxiliary policemen, firemen and others in specialized groups will combat mock hazards during the nine-hour vigil they will maintain under conditions simulating as closely as possible those of an actual air raid.

Except for the half-hour of total darkness, pedestrians and motor traffic will function normally. Street and traffic lights will remain on and automobiles may use headlights.

Civilian defense officials explained the purpose of the partial blackout is to "learn how to keep up our normal life in semi-darkness." Citizens were urged to black out one room and then proceed with their normal activities.

Mrs. Harry Britton Dies; Burial Here On Thursday

Mrs. Myrtle Britton (nee Britton), wife of Harry Britton, died on Saturday in a Philadelphia hospital. Mrs. Britton, formerly of Bristol and Newportville, has been residing in Philadelphia for some time; and both he and his late wife were known to many here.

The service is arranged for Thursday at two p. m., at the late home of the deceased, 1723 Seybert street, Philadelphia. Burial will be made in Bristol Cemetery, and friends may call Wednesday evening.

LOCAL WEATHER OBSERVATIONS
FOR 24 HOUR PERIOD ENDING 8 A. M.
AT ROHM & HAAS WEATHER OBSERVATORY
BRISTOL, PA.

Temperature Readings
Maximum 95 F
Minimum 67 F
Range 28 F

Hourly Temperatures
8 a. m. yesterday 73
9 74
10 75
11 78
12 noon 82
1 p. m. 84
2 87
3 88
4 88
5 92
6 94
7 90
8 88
9 83
10 80
11 79
12 midnight 78
1 a. m. today 77
2 76
3 73
4 71
5 70
6 68
7 67
8 71

P. C. Relative Humidity 77
Precipitation (inches)03

TIDES AT BRISTOL
High water 9.30 a. m.; 10.07 p. m.
Low water 4.13 a. m.; 4.35 p. m.

Father of Seven Found Dead On Floor Beside Bed

Believing that her husband had arisen early and gone downstairs Saturday morning, Mrs. Margaret Vandine was shocked a few minutes after waking to find his lifeless body on the floor on the far side of the bed.

The deceased, Samuel M. Vandine, 737 Spruce street, had been in ill health for some time, suffering from a heart ailment, and had been unable to work. He leaves his wife, and seven children, aged two to 17 years. His survivors also include several sisters and brothers.

It is believed that death had occurred several hours previous. Mrs. Vandine is of the opinion that her husband had gotten out of bed, then slumped to the floor, as she was not awakened by any fall.

The service will be held at the Morden funeral chapel, 133 Otter street, tomorrow at two o'clock. Burial will be made in Bristol Cemetery. Friends may call this evening.

SELECT COMMITTEES TO PRESERVE FOOD HERE

Four Groups Named To Collect, Can and Store Food Under Defense Effort

TO COLLECT SURPLUSES

An interested group of women from Bristol and surrounding communities met at the home of Mrs. Horace N. Davis, Otter street, on Thursday to make plans for canning and preserving food under direction of the Food Conservation Committee of Bucks Co. Council Defense during the summer months.

There has been stored in various food banks of Bristol, 1479 cans of food to be used for refugees or for Bristol people in case of an emergency. This food was donated by the women and children of Bristol.

A check was given to the food conservation committee for $18.53 by the Lower Bucks County Council of Republican Women.

Four committees have been formed for the canning season. The following women have volunteered their services.

1. Committee to find place where canning will be done: Mrs. Albert Loehner, chairman; Mrs. Wesley Bunting, Mrs. Ralph Scheffey, Mrs. Charles Peet, Mrs. Willis H. Bolte, Mrs. David Neill.

2. Committee to collect fruits and vegetables: Mrs. Samuel Roberts, Mrs. J. T. Riley, Mrs. John Wear, Mrs. H. N. Davis, Mrs. John Conyers, Mrs. James Turner, Mrs. George Garrettson, Mrs. David Sheerer, Mrs. Robert C. Ruehl, Mrs. Livingston Joyce.

3. Committee to can, preserve or dry food: Mrs. Walter Pitonka, chairman; Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. Fred Durkin, Mrs. Charles Peet, Mrs. Fred Gould, Mrs. George Bruden, Mrs. Earl Tomb, Mrs. Minot Hill, Mrs. William Winslow, Mrs. Charles Rathke, Mrs. William Fine, Mrs. John Wear, Mrs. Ezra Price, Mrs. Irving Yates, Mrs. Harry Neher, Mrs. Frank Weik, Miss Elizabeth S. Rue, Mrs. William Griffiths, Mrs. Ralph Scheffey, Mrs. Willis H. Bolte, Mrs. Joseph Talbot, Mrs. Fred Durkin, Mrs. Russell DeLong, Mrs. J. T. Riley.

4. Committee to pack and store food: Mrs. Russell DeLong, chairman; Mrs. Irving Yates, Mrs. William Fine, Mrs. William Griffiths, Mrs. L. B. Gorton, Mrs. Lillie.

Farmers or truckers having vegetables or fruits to donate, please call Mrs. Samuel Roberts, Bristol 7355.

Lawn Party Tendered To Misses Fallon and Coyne

CROYDON, June 22—Miss Mary Fallon and Miss Helene Coyne were given a surprise graduation party after the meeting of Troop No. 2, Jr. C. D. of A., on Saturday afternoon. The party was held on the lawn of Mrs. Timothy Coyne, counselor.

Decorations were of yellow and white and a bouquet of yellow and white flowers graced the table. Favors were marshmallow mannikins.

Both guests of honor were presented with gifts which were hidden in the bushes. Games and races were enjoyed, and Reba Gordon and Patricia Coyne were presented with prizes.

Refreshments were served to Helene and Patricia Coyne, Helen and Catherine Moore, Ada Lineman, Anne Barner, Mary Lou Magill, Betty Schwendeman, Mary Fallon and Reba Gordon.

St. James' Picnic Held Here; Buses Not Available

Due to inability to hire buses to transport scholars to the usual picnic place, St. James' Church School conducted the annual affair on the lawn of the parish house on Saturday afternoon.

Scoutmaster John Burtonwood, and members of his Boy Scout troop, were in charge of a program of games; and 50 enjoyed races, games, peanut scramble, etc. Ice cream was served.

James A. Lawler Takes As Bride, Philomena Massiello

Miss Philomena K. Massiello, of 214 Otter street, and Mr. James A. Lawler, 591 Bath street, were the principals in a wedding ceremony yesterday at high noon in St. Ann's R. C. Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Massiello, and the groom's father is Mr. William Lawler.

The priest in charge of the ceremony was the Rev. Fr. Peter Pinci. The bride's father gave her in marriage; and organ music was provided by Miss Frances Tamburella. "Ave Maria" was the number sung by Mrs. Howard English.

Miss Elizabeth Della, of Otter street, and Miss Fay Accardi, Jefferson avenue, served as bridesmaids; with Mr. John Massiello, Lincoln avenue, a brother of the bride, as best man; and Mr. Ira Wiltshire, Linden street, as usher.

As she entered the church with her father, the bride looked attractive in a gown of embroidered white star chiffon. The long sleeves puffed at the shoulder; and the neck-line was sweetheart style. The full skirt attached to a low torso, swept to a long train. At the neck-line orange blossoms were used as trim; and her long tulle veil was held in place by a tiara fashioned of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of white kid. The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, calla lilies and baby's breath.

The white star chiffon gowns worn by the bridesmaids were patterned like that of the bride, they having short trains. Their picture hats were of aqua toned bengaline; and linen sandals were in aqua tone. Each maid carried an arm spray of mixed flowers in pastel shades.

Members of the bridal party dined at the Roma Restaurant, Trenton, N. J., immediately following the ceremony; and at a reception last evening at the Massiello home members of the families were present. The newly-weds are spending a week's honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains. The bride traveled in a suit of cocoa brown, white linen hat with brown ribbon trim, brown and white slippers, and wore brown and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. They will reside with the bride's parents.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were strands of pearls. Mr. Lawler presented the best man and usher with tie clasp sets.

EIGHT SERVE HERE AS WEDDING ATTENDANTS

Miss Angelina B. Lanza Becomes Wife of Marvin Hart, Jr., Sunday

ATTRACTIVE CEREMONY

Four young women attended Miss Angelina B. Lanza, 220 Dorrance street, yesterday, when she became the bride of Mr. Marvin Hart, Jr., 1030 Pond street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hart, of Lincoln, Nebraska, at a ceremony in St. Ann's R. C. Church at three o'clock.

The attendants of the bride at the attractive nuptial ceremony were her sister, Miss Alice Lanza, who served as junior maid of honor; the Misses Catherine Lanza, another sister; Rose Fioravanti, Radcliffe street; and Lucy Pico, Pine street, who were bridesmaids.

The former Miss Lanza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alessio Lanza, was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. Fr. Peter Pinci officiated at the altar; and Miss Frances Tamburella was organist, she also accompanying the vocalist, Miss Yolanda DeFelice, who sang "Ave Maria."

Mr. Hart had as his groomsmen, Mr. Angelo LaPolla, Cedar street; and the ushers were inclusive of Messrs. Paul Lanza, Dorrance street, brother of the bride; Lawrence Warren, Mansion street; and Frank Smith, Jr., of Frankford.

A striking gown of white tulle was chosen by the bride for the ceremony. It featured a sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves which were trimmed with orange blossoms. The long, full skirt was covered with circular ruffles of self-material, and a ruffle also edged the bottom of the skirt and the sweeping train. A long veil of tulle fell from an off-the-face style head-dress which had trim of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of white satin, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lavender orchids.

The quartet of attendants of the bride were gowned in pink tulle, the floor-length models having sweetheart necklines, short sleeves, and the

Continued On Page Four

MAKE RESERVATIONS

The Young People's Fellowship of St. James' Episcopal Church will conduct a communion breakfast on Sunday morning next. Those desiring to attend are asked to make reservations by Thursday evening. They may telephone Miss Jane Rogers, 577; or Mrs. Robert Bruden, 2301.

Contributions For Parade and Pageant To Be Held July 4th

Acknowledgment is here made of contributions received toward the expense of the July 4th Parade and Pageant to be held in Bristol. Those desiring to contribute may mail their contributions to Roy F. Fry, treasurer, Bristol, Pa., or give them to the solicitors named for their districts.

The following donations are acknowledged today:

Weed Chevrolet $ 10.00
Paul Voltz 10.00
Campo Meat Market 5.00
Harry Meeker 5.00
Bristol Motor Parts Co. 5.00
Barton Gas Station 5.00
Lorraine Cleaners 3.00
Hof Brau 2.00
William Johnston 5.00
Frank Crossley 5.00
Terrace Cafe 5.00
Joseph Blusiewicz 5.00
Warren Pierce 2.00
Helen Dillallo25

Continued on Page Four

SPANISH COURT SCENE WILL BE OUTSTANDING

Catholic Daughters of America Supply Participants for This Part

JULY FOURTH PAGEANT

One of the patriotic scenes which will be portrayed in "America On Parade," the July 4th patriotic spectacle at Wood Memorial Field, will be "Columbus at the Court of Spain." As a member of the talent committee, Mrs. Margaret Murphy is organizing the participants for this elaborate and colorful scene.

Miss Anne McGee has been selected to play the role of Queen Isabella. John Murphy has been cast in the role of King Ferdinand.

As Ladies-in-Waiting to Her Majesty the Queen, the Catholic Daughters of America have supplied the participants. Appearing in this group will be Dorothy Wunsch, Elizabeth Tryon, Mrs. Robert H. Wilkins, Marie G. Hafele, Mary Jane Clarke and Mrs. Stella Williamson.

One of the high spots of the court scene will be the appearance of the Spanish Royal Court Ballet. Sixteen girls from the Junior Catholic Daughters of Croydon are now in rehearsal for this fast-moving tambourine dance which is done as entertainment for the King and Queen and their Court guests. In the dance will be seen Patricia Coyne, Marie Williams, Lorraine Burins, Katherine Ryan, Helen Thompson, Theresa Thiering, Ada Lineman, Jeanne Wong, Rosemary Hafele, Helene Coyne, Norma Ruland, Joan Thompson, Mary Fallon, Dolores Holton, Margaret Tryon and Jean Ryan. Marie G. Hafele acted as organizer of this group.

Mrs. Minerva Epstein, chairman of the talent committee, announced yesterday that while the response from the women has been excellent, the pageant absolutely must have more men in the cast at once. Volunteers are asked to report tonight at 8.30 at Mutual Aid Hall on Wood street. Director Rowland will cast all volunteers at that time.

Twenty Scrap Tires Stolen at Wetherill's

Twenty discarded automobile tires piled in a heap of scrap rubber at the Wetherill Service Station, Farragut avenue and Green Lane, were stolen last night.

Mr. Wetherill missed the tires, this morning, when he opened the station for business.

"We have about two tons of scrap rubber," said Mr. Wetherill this morning. "The tires were taken from the heap."

Bristol Faculty Member Is Wed To Cornwells Resident

A member of the faculty of Bristol public schools became the bride yesterday of a Cornwells Heights resident, when Miss Genevieve E. Meixell, who has been residing at 206 Jefferson avenue, and Mr. Elwood Lange, son of Mr. Frederick Lange, Cornwells Heights, were united in marriage.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. O. Goshall in the Espy Methodist Church, in Espy, at 12 o'clock noon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meixell, of Espy.

The newlyweds will reside in Cornwells Heights.

FIRST WARD WARDENS

This evening at eight the air-raid wardens of the first ward will meet in Bristol Methodist Church, Cedar and Mulberry streets. All wardens are asked to be present, and to take others with them.

FIRST-AID TONIGHT

Due to the scheduled "black-out" tomorrow evening, the weekly class for instruction in first-aid will be held at Laurel Bend school house tonight at 7.30, being advanced one night.

ESTATE OF $163,226 IS LEFT BY A LATE RIEGELSVILLE WOMAN

Inventory in Estate of Mrs. Annie Wireback is Filed At County Seat

BEQUEATHED TO FAMILY

One of 20 Inventories Filed; All Parts of Bucks County

DOYLESTOWN, June 20—An estate of $163,226.58, left by Mrs. Annie Wireback, late of Riegelsville, is among the 20 inventories filed in the office of Register of Wills here.

When the Riegelsville woman's will was probated some time ago, her personal estate was valued at $35,000 and real estate at $35,000.

Mrs. Wireback, who bequeathed the statutory amount of real estate and personal property to her husband, William I. Wireback, left the residue to seven children, Elizabeth, Mary, Anna May, William W., Alice G., Howard P., Edith and Esther.

An adopted son, William Wilson Wireback, was cut off with $1.

The 19 other inventories are as follows:

Estate of Edwin B. Nase, Hilltown township, $39,623.44.

Estate of Samuel Overpeck, Bridgetown township, $190. Estate of Rachel C. Pidcock, Upper Makefield township, $3503.08. Estate of John W. Prince, Newtown township, $4407.15.

Estate of William Wert Plank, West Rockhill township, $1306.83. Estate of Anna Bredin Reddan, Solebury township, $155.69.

Estate of Elizabeth S. Redmond, Doylestown, $747.56.

Estate of Raymond L. Steinhauser, Quakertown, $1980.05.

Estate of Nick Stadler, Bedminster township, $9080.39.

Estate of Margaret R. Skinn, Morrisville, $25.48.

Estate of Alvin R. Syer, Hilltown township, $492. Estate of Martin Siatkowski, Newtown, $6860.39. Estate of Ellsworth Z. Simmons, Perkasie, $131.25. Estate of Sallie Smith, Buckingham township, $4782.85.

Estate of Carrie Shaw, Halmerville, $4206.71. Estate of Mary Jane Wolf, Doylestown township, $174.29. Estate of Clarence G. Worthington, Yardley, $1,000. Estate of Jacob H. Walter, Sellersville, $362.33. Estate of Etta Worob, Bristol, $592.67.

REV. GIBSON OFFICIATES

CORNWELLS RESIDENTS ARE WED AT EDDINGTON

Miss Edna May Walker and Mr. Edward Effing Are Principals in Ceremony

Miss Edna May Walker and Mr. Edward Effing are principals in a ceremony to be held at Eddington, Pa., on Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker.

A gown of white organdy chiffon, patterned like those worn in the year 1898, was worn by the bride. The long-sleeved gown, had trim of ruffles and her heart-shaped headpiece held a finger-tip veil of Irish lace. Her slippers were of white, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary

Continued on Page Four

WITH THE MARINES

HERBERT J. F. PINNA, JR.
Son of Mrs. Isabella Pinna, Emily avenue, Bristol, Pa., is now serving under the proud standard of the United States Marine Corps. He is learning the hard-hitting tactics of the fighting Devil Dogs at a Marine Corps Recruit Training Depot.

COMMUNION BREAKFASTS ARE SERVED ON SUNDAY

Knights of Columbus Affair is Attended by Approximately 160

JR. C. D. OF A. GROUPS

Two communion breakfasts were served in this area yesterday morning.

Participants in the one were members of Bristol Council, Knights of Columbus; and the second one took place in Croydon, with Bristol and Croydon Junior C. D. of A. groups being served.

Visiting dignitaries of the Knights of Columbus and priests of St. Mark's parish were guests yesterday morning at a communion breakfast arranged by Bristol Council, Knights of Columbus in the K. of C. home.

The breakfast followed Holy Communion in St. Mark's Church, which was conducted by the Rev. Father Paul Baird.

One hundred and sixty were served at the breakfast, at which Grand Knight of Bristol Council, William Gallagher, served as toastmaster.

In addition to the visiting dignitaries, all of whom spoke on "Education," the Rev. Fathers William Murphy, Albert Glass and Paul Baird, of St. Mark's parish, addressed the Knights.

The annual communion breakfast of Junior Catholic Daughters of Croydon and Bristol was held on Sunday morning in St. Thomas Aquinas Hall. The juniors attended the eight o'clock mass and received Holy Communion in a body.

The breakfast tables were arranged "V" shape, and were decorated in red, white and blue. Bouquets of white and blue hydrangeas, blue delphinium and red roses adorned the tables. Each

Continued On Page Four

Defense Sample Houses To Be Open Wednesday Night

It was announced today by John J. Carroll, housing manager of the Bristol Terrace Defense Housing Project, that the two sample houses will be open Wednesday evening from seven until nine, and on Monday evening, June 29th, from seven until nine o'clock.

The above hours are in addition to the previous hours of from two until five each afternoon.

5TH ZONE WARDENS

Air raid wardens of the fifth ward are reminded of the class in instruction to be held at 7.30 tonight in Mutual Aid Hall.

WARDENS' MEETING

All Zone 6, Sector 4, air-raid wardens are requested to meet at post headquarters, Green Lane and Highway, at seven o'clock this evening. It is important that everyone be present, to go over instructions for the black-out Tuesday night, it is stated.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

European rulers are coming in with the regularity of the 8.15.

The King of Greece is hardly off track four when Churchill arrives behind Queen Wilhelmina, and Molotov leaves on track two.

Washington may not be the capital of the world but it comes closer, at the moment, than anything since Rome.

Four years ago this month you could turn out a crowd to see the King and Queen of England.

Now we've got enough royalty on this democratic continent to make up a pinocchio deck.

We're not only in the United Nations, we've got room reservations.

If the trade holds out through the peace conference we ought to do all right.

Thought for the day: We've got to win the peace too.

MOCK AIR RAID AT CROYDON PROVES TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

Observers Find But Few Defects As Units Go Into Action

FINE CO-OPERATION

Groups Meet After The "All-Clear" is Sounded, and Are Complimented

The mock air raid conducted by the Croydon Council of Defense yesterday afternoon was a grand success. So agreed officials who watched all units perform their various tasks.

Major Samuel Bryson, of the Hunter Manufacturing Company, who came to Croydon especially to watch the functioning of the first-aid, messenger, control center, and fire services, highly praised all groups who assembled in the Croydon school after the all-clear signal sounded. He stated that he had gained valuable information that may be useful at any time in a local emergency and that he hopes to have close co-operation between his company and the local units. Major Bryson, District Warden Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr.; and Robert Downing, chief of emergency police, toured the entire area watching wardens, police messengers and first-aid workers perform their duties throughout the raid period. Both chiefs commended all units at the school-house meeting.

Air whistle alarms were sounded at two o'clock, giving the signal that Croydon was being attacked. Two airplanes from the Roosevelt Airport circled over the area to add realism to the picture. All units of the defense set-up rushed to their posts and reported to their chiefs. Messengers were dispatched to the various posts for the use of zone leaders, while wardens and police began patrolling their streets, on the lookout for "casualties," "demolished" houses and saboteurs. Red Cross workers made their way quickly

Continued On Page Four

New Electric Organ Used In Worship Service Here

The new electric organ, gift of an unnamed person, was used for the first time in a service of worship at Bristol Presbyterian Church, yesterday morning.

The gift of the fine musical instrument, announced for the first time last week after it had been installed in the edifice, came as a pleasant surprise to members of the congregation.

The one presenting the gift, not wishing his or her name known, remains unidentified. The Rev. James R. Galle, pastor, expressed appreciation of the gift yesterday morning. Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley presided at the console.

TO MAKE COLLECTION

Announcement was made this morning that solicitation of funds for the big Fourth of July program to be staged in Bristol will be made tomorrow morning in the Mill Street business district. This announcement was made by Edgar Spencer, general collection chairman of this district for the Committee for the Fourth of July Celebration. The following members will make the canvass: Mill St. 100 block, Edgar Spencer and Joseph Elbertson; Mill St. 200 block, Marty Green and William Conca, Esq.; Mill St. 300 block, J. S. Lynn and L. Dries; Mill St. 400 block, Abe Popkin and David Norman.

WARDENS' MEETING

All Zone 6, Sector 4, air-raid wardens are requested to meet at post headquarters, Green Lane and Highway, at seven o'clock this evening. It is important that everyone be present, to go over instructions for the black-out Tuesday night, it is stated.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

European rulers are coming in with the regularity of the 8.15.

The King of Greece is hardly off track four when Churchill arrives behind Queen Wilhelmina, and Molotov leaves on track two.

Washington may not be the capital of the world but it comes closer, at the moment, than anything since Rome.

Four years ago this month you could turn out a crowd to see the King and Queen of England.

Now we've got enough royalty on this democratic continent to make up a pinocchio deck.

We're not only in the United Nations, we've got room reservations.

If the trade holds out through the peace conference we

The Bristol Courier

Established 1919
Published Every Evening (Except Sunday) at Beaver and Garden Sts., Bristol, Pa. Bell Phone 846
Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County

BRISTOL PRINTING COMPANY
Owner and Publisher
Incorporated May 27, 1914
Verrill D. Dettlerson President
Bertrill D. Dettlerson Managing Editor
Ellis E. Ratcliffe Secretary
Lester D. Thorne Treasurer

Subscription Price per Year, in advance, $4.00; Six Months, $2.00; Three Months, $1.00.
The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tullytown, Bridgeville, Crofton, Andalusia, West Bristol, Humesville, Bath Addition, New Portville and Torredale Manor for ten cents a week.

JOB PRINTING
The Courier has the most complete commercial printing department in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done. Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa.
International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for publication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for publication all the local or undated news published herein.

MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1942

ANTITRUST POLICY

The Department of Justice has yielded in the matter of pressing the prosecution of a number of important war industries which were indicted in May on a charge of maintaining a dyestuffs monopoly. Secretary of War Stimson asked for postponement of the trials on the ground that in making a defense the corporations would be seriously hampered in their war efforts.

The decision is in line with common prudence in a time of national peril. The situation was examined in March by the President and the heads of the War, Navy and Justice departments. It was seen that the Federal government has nearly complete control of war production corporations, hence is able to escape the penalty of dealing with a monopoly, if such exists.

It was also seen that as a war measure the government must at times encourage the pooling of industrial resources by what amounts to forced agreements that are technically in restraint of trade.

Senator Van Nuys has prepared a bill which demonstrates a fine comprehension of the whole wartime monopoly prosecution problem. His bill would postpone action but in no way reduce the power of the Department of Justice to prosecute later, or alter the antitrust policy of the government that has been in effect since President Harrison signed the Sherman act fifty years ago.

The government has wavered in its recent policy toward monopolies. It encouraged them under NRA, and then prosecuted some of those which it had encouraged following the voiding of NRA. It has used threats of prosecution to harass and intimidate corporations, but has legalized monopolies to control farm products, prices and wages. Now, apparently, the war crisis has forced it to make some concession to fair play and realism.

SHARING RIDES

As tires wear out and workers pool their automobiles in share-the-ride plans, legal complications are possible. In most states commissions regulate all vehicles used for hire.

The Indiana Public Service Commission announced some time ago that it will not require certificates when private automobiles are used to transport passengers. Because some offended passenger might go to court, however, Frank J. Vielmann, Indiana insurance commissioner, has made suggestions that if adopted would avoid trouble later for drivers in all states.

Mr. Vielmann has advised passengers to make certain that the car owner has public liability and property damage insurance. Operators who plan to accept passengers should make arrangements with their insurance companies in advance and escape circumstances that might invalidate their protection.

Drivers with passengers should exercise extraordinary caution. While laws in some states absolve a car owner from liability to guest riders, even these laws generally provide for penalties if the driver is guilty of negligence.

Auto pools are regarded as essential if adequate transportation is to be available for war workers, but any arrangement of this nature might be the basis for litigation if accidents occur. For that reason whoever drives a share-the-ride car is urged to be extremely careful.

Those who set out to conquer the world soon discover that they took in too much territory.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette Issue dated at Bristol Aug. 12, 1890. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

It has been decided to build the Republican wigwag on the corner of Mill and Wood streets, on John McGinley's lot. Its dimensions will be 40-50 feet, and will comfortably accommodate about 1000 people. The first meeting will be held about the 20th inst., and will be addressed by ex-Governor Pollock and other able speakers. The ground is being prepared for the erection of the wigwag today, and the lumber will be on the ground tomorrow and the carpenters ready to commence the building.

The next quarterly meeting of the Bucks County Temperance Alliance will be held at Sharon Park, near Newtown, on Wednesday morning, September 1st. Addresses will be made by Hon. Samuel Capper, of Manchester, England, Hon. C. C. Leigh, of Brooklyn, and Samuel P. Godwin, of Philadelphia.

The picnic on the grounds surrounding the Friends' Meeting House at Pennsbury, on Saturday afternoon last, was a delightful affair. It was gotten up by the Friends First Day School at Pennsbury, and the Union Sabbath School at the Creek School House in Penns Manor. About 300 sat down to an elegantly furnished table.

Last Saturday the employees of the Bristol Worsted Mills took an excursion to Sea Breeze. The steamboat "John A. Warner" came to Bristol and received about 300 excursionists aboard. Messrs. Grundy Brothers & Campion gave the men their time and the day was fully enjoyed by all. The excursion netted about $25 above expenses, and as the project was not a money-making one, the excess was donated to the Washington Cornet Band.

The old buildings in the rear of the Presbyterian Church and those facing Cedar street have been torn down. When the ground is leveled up and added it will present a more agreeable appearance than heretofore.

Democratic headquarters have been provided in the room formerly occupied as a harness shop by Charles Saxton and opposite the Cottage Hotel.

The Bristol Improvement Company, which has done so much to add to the prosperity of Bristol, is yet but in its infancy. Established but a few years ago, it owns the Bristol Worsted Mills, the Keystone Fringe Factory, the Bristol Iron Foundry, the Bristol Keg Factory, and is now building the Woolen Factory for Mr. James M. Slack. It is constantly adding improvements to its various properties, and today it is conceded they are fully equal in value. If they do not exceed, the cost of their erection. The Company has always declared a dividend of seven per cent per annum. . . .

The manufacturers here are spending money constantly in erecting new buildings and buying improved machinery. The additions made to several of the mills in Bristol each year is often equivalent in results to the erection of a new factory. So that it will be seen with but a moment's thought that the concern which starts in a comparatively modest way today may in a few years be one of the leading manufacturing establishments of the country.

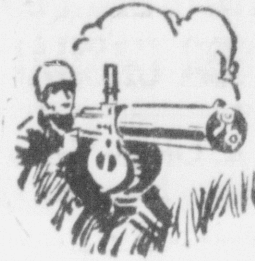

Under the stimulus of the manufacturers in Bristol in the decade from 1870 to 1880, Bristol increased in population over 50 per cent. This increase is due alone to the establishment of manufacturing within our limits, without which the town, instead of showing such a handsome increase in population and wealth, would without doubt, have given evidence of unmistakable decay.

The new front put to the drug store owned by Dr. Purcell is a very attractive one. The new plate-glass bulk window, the tasteful gold-leaf lettering, together with the olive-green paint relieved by gold stripes on the panels of the doors and windows, make a fine appearance. . . . The decoration was done by James Lyndall, Esq.

About five years ago a roll of butter was accidentally dropped down a well on Dorrance street. The other day it was found, brought up from its long resting-place, and its quality tested. We are told that its five years' submersion in water has preserved its purity in a remarkable degree, and that it is yet equal to some that is

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least 1 percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do it.

U. S. Treasury Dept.

called "fresh," although it had a somewhat cheesy flavor.

PATRIOTIC PARENTS

LANCASTER, Pa.—(INS)—Four sons, two in World War I and two in the present conflict, have been sent to the nation's armed forces by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder.

Their oldest sons, Paul and Raymond, served overseas in 1917. Stanley is now stationed at a Maryland camp while Finley, the youngest son, is about to join the air corps.

CHECK GAS RATION CARDS

LANCASTER, Pa.—(INS)—In order to check up on X and B gasoline ration card holders, Police Commissioner Albert Carson has inaugurated an effective plan in Lancaster.

Under the system all holders of the high cards who are arrested for traffic violations will immediately be reported to the county rationing board for investigation.

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly
(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Don't overlook blouses as a definitely distinguishing feature of your wardrobe this season. A pretty or interestingly different blouse will give your outfit a mark of distinction which it may otherwise not have.

PHILA. EXPRESS
DAILY TRIPS
FARRUGGIO'S EXPRESS
901 Mansion St. Dial 2953
Philadelphia 7 N. Front Street
Phone Market 3548

Miller's Dump Truck Service
TRUCKS TO HIRE
Sand, Stone, Cement, Used Brick, Cinders, Dirt for Sale
Phone Bristol 544

LEGAL

NOTICE

In re: Application of Neibauer Bus Company, a Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Application Docket No. A 54611. Notice is hereby given that application has been made to The Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the provisions of the Public Utility Law by Neibauer Bus Company, a Pennsylvania Corporation, 7129 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa., for a certificate of Public Convenience evidencing the Commission's requisite approval of Application of Neibauer Bus Company, a corporation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the additional right, as a common carrier, to transport persons employed at Fleetwings, Inc., from points on applicant's certificated routes between the Boroughs of Newtown and Bristol, Bucks County, to said Company's plant in Bristol Township, and vice versa. Beginning at Fleetwings, Inc., Plant No. 2, via Highway Routes 13 and 713 to Borough of Humesville, Highway Route 113 to the Borough of South Langhorne, Bucks County, and the Borough of West Newtown, Bucks County, and the right to make a loop into the Reading Company's Station to pick up and discharge passengers, except at Bristol Borough, Mill Street will be used in lieu of Market Street due to "one way" streets carrying opposing traffic with an alternate route when not serving Fleetwings Plant No. 2 over Highway Routes 13, 713 and 113, via different streets, excluding local service in the Borough of Langhorne.

A public hearing upon this application will be held in Room 496, City Hall, Philadelphia, Pa., on the twenty-fourth day of June, 1942 at 10:00 A. M. when and where all persons in interest may appear and be heard, if they so desire.

ABRAHAM NATHANSON, Counsel for Neibauer Bus Company, 501 Commercial Trust Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 6-15, 22.

PHONE 846

FOR

CLASSIFIED

ADVERTISING

IT BRINGS

QUICK RESULTS

(To be continued)
Copyright by James Hilton
Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Random Harvest by JAMES HILTON

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

And then Charles Rainier went on to tell the story of his uncle and that first visit to Poldini's historic restaurant: "I don't think I ever told you about him—he was a charming and very shortsighted child, and the only one out of my large collection of uncles whom I really liked. He liked me too, I think—we often used to spend a day together. One evening during the Christmas holidays, we felt hungry after a matinee of Jack and the Beanstalk, so as we were walking to the nearest Underground station he said, 'Let's go in here for a snack'—and it was Poldini's. I think he mistook it for some sort of cheap but respectable teashop—anyhow, we walked in, all among the pretty ladies and the young men-about-town; we were the cynosure of every eye, as novelists in those days used to write—because it wasn't at all the kind of place a Church of England dignitary would normally take his schoolboy nephew to, and my uncle, with his white hair and flashing eyes (the drops he had to put in them made them flash), must have looked rather like Hall Caine's Christian about to create a disturbance. . . . Anyhow, old Poldini, — he's dead now, — scenting something funny about us, pretended all his tables were booked and asked if we'd mind dining upstairs—so up we went, my uncle blinking his way aloft without a word of protest, and presently Poldini showed us into a cosy little room furnished in blue and gold, with a very thick carpet and a convenient chaise longue against the wall and gilt cupids swarming in a suggestive manner all over the ceiling—in fact, Poldini took charge of us completely, recommending a la carte dishes and serving them himself, and as the meal progressed my uncle grew more and more surprised and delighted—still under the impression it was an A.B.C. or some such place; and when the bill came I snatched it up and said I'd stand treat, and he said, 'My boy, that's very generous of you'—and by God, it was, for it took all the money he'd just given me as a Christmas present. But I never let him know, and to the end of his life he always used to tell people he'd never enjoyed a better meal than that at that eating house off the Strand . . . eating house, mind you! He took a long breath and added: 'So that's where we'll dine tonight—among the ghosts of the past—a couple of mildreds entertaining the toast of the town—and rather battered toast, if you'll pardon two bad puns at once.'

When I look back on that evening I remember chiefly, of course, the incident that crowned it; but I can see now that the entire masquerade was somehow Rainier's last and rather preposterous effort to tease a way into self-knowledge, and that the climax, though completely accidental, was yet a fitting end to the attempt. I realized also, even if never before, how near he was to some catastrophic breakdown—partly from overwork, but chiefly from the fret of things that could not be forgotten because they had never been remembered. And all that day, ever since meeting Nixon, the fret had strengthened behind an increasing randomness of acts and words.

We drove to Poldini's through the rain, and were glad to find the place reasonably unchanged, still with its private rooms upstairs, little used by a generation that no longer needs such an apparatus of seduction, and therefore slightly melancholy until gardenias and ice buckets revived a more festive spirit. Then, with some commotion, the Navodas arrived, the pianist rather pale and glum in a long overcoat with an astrakhan collar, and Madame very florid and voluble with heavy gold bangles and ancient but good-quality furs, obviously bewitched (but by no means ill-at-ease) at the prospect of dining intimately with English nobility. We soon discovered that both of them were equally accomplished champagne bibbers, but whereas Madame grew livelier and gayer with every glass, her husband sank after the first half-dozen into a settled gloom from which he could only stir himself at intervals to murmur to the waiter a demand for "trout"—for there had been confusion over his order, due perhaps to the waiter's reluctance to believe that any one in 1939 would ask for truites in addition to Beluga caviar, steak tartare, and English rosbif. But all that too, and to Rainier's feverish delight, was in the hallowed tradition—the age of monstrous dinners and fashionable aperitifs, the one most often the result of the others.

Presently, after the popping of the fourth magnum, Madame grew sentimental and talked of her romantic adventures in all parts of the world—a recital garnished with copious quotations from the poets, of whom she knew so many in various languages that I began to think it really must be a passion with her quite as genuine as that for Hoidie; she liked amorous poetry best, and there was something very little charming in the way she obviously did not know which was too hackneyed to quote, so that from a worn-out tag of Shakespeare she would swerve into a line from Emily Brontë or Beddoes. A few words she wrongly pronounced or did not understand; she would then ask us to correct her, quite simply and with an absence of self-consciousness that made piquant her theatrical gestures and over-studied rhythms. Suddenly I realized, in the mood of half-maudlin pity that comes after a few drinks, it is none the less perceptible, that she was a sadly disappointed woman, getting little out of later life that she really craved for, without a home, a wanderer between hotels and casinos, listening to the same old Brahms and Beethoven in half-empty concert halls, tied for the rest of her days to a flabby maestro, yet alive in her illusion that the world was still gay and chivalrous as a novelette.

After Rainier had called for more cognac he asked if she had any ideas for spending the rest of the evening, because he'd be glad to go on to a show if she fancied any particular play. She answered, with enthusiasm: "Oh yes, it is so kind of you to—there is one place I have always wanted to go because I have heard so much about it—your famous old English music hall!"

Rainier said how unfortunate that was, because the famous old English music hall no longer existed; there were only assortments of vaudeville turns and dance bands. "Then perhaps we could go to see Berty Lowe." "Berty Lowe?"

"A man at the hotel told me this morning he was acting in London somewhere, and I should like to see him because I once knew an Englishman in Budapest who used to do imitations of him. He always said Berty Lowe was the greatest comedian of the famous old English music hall."

Rainier had asked the waiter for an evening paper and was now glancing down the list. "Yes, he used to be quite funny, but I haven't heard of him in London for years—he's a bit passé, you know . . . well, he's not at the Coliseum or the Holborn Empire . . . that rather limits the possibilities . . . wait a minute, though—'Berty Lowe in Salute the Flag Twice Nightly at the Banford Hippodrome'—"

She clapped her hands ecstatically. "Oh, I should love to go there!" "But it's miles away in the suburbs"—he was beginning, but suddenly then I could see the mere existence of the idea seize hold of him; to drive out to Banford to see Berty Lowe at the local Hippodrome was in the right key of fantasy for such an evening. He handed me the paper. "They call it a riot of rip-roaring rib-tickling—doesn't that sound awful? Wish you'd ring 'em up and book a box for four at the second house."

"Salute the Flag," echoed Madame, with hands clasped. "Oh, I know I am going to love it if it is about soldiers. The Englishman I knew in Budapest was a soldier. It was during the war, but he wasn't interned at first, because the Hungarians always liked the English, but when he began to send me flowers every day with a note in them—written in English, of course—the police arrested him for espionage, but when they translated the notes—oh, mon dieu, you should have seen their faces—and his—and mine—because, you see, he was crazily in love with me—crazily—not a bit like an Englishman! Oh, how I wish I had made them give me back those notes. . . . Casimir, of course, was mad with jealousy."

Casimir, no longer capable of being mad with jealousy, looked up as a dog will on hearing his name mentioned, then shook his head with a bemused belch over his unfinished crepes Suzettes.

I went out to telephone. An hour later we were sitting on four very uncomfortable cane chairs as the curtain rose on Salute the Flag. It had been a mistake, I could see, to have engaged a box; the orchestra seats would have been much more comfortable, and further away from certain plucky touchings which, on being merely touched, shook out clouds of dubious-looking dust. I gathered from the way we were escorted to our seats, and also from the fact that the other boxes were empty, that our arrival had created a little stir; it would be odd, I thought, but perhaps not absolutely catastrophic, if some member of the audience were to recognize Rainier. However, no one did, despite the fact that some of the actors played at us outrageously—even, by the end of the show, making jokes about "the gentleman in the box who's fast asleep." It was true; Casimir was fast asleep. Madame had awakened him several times, but he slumped forward again almost immediately; soon she gave it up as a bad job.

As for the play, it had been (I guessed) an originally serious melodrama on a wartime theme, dating probably from 1914 or 1915; its villains had then been Germans of impossible villainy and its heroes English soldiers of equally impossible saintliness. A quarter of a century of lucrative adaptation, however, had merged both the villain and the saintliness into a common denominator of broad comedy burlesque; such patriotic speeches as remained were spoken now only to be laughed at, while the hero's first appearance was in the always comic uniform of a scoutmaster.

But Madame was puzzled. During the intermission she said: "I cannot understand why they laugh at some of the lines. When the recruiting sergeant made that speech about the British Empire, what was funny about it?"

"It's just our English sense of humor," Rainier explained. "We think recruiting sergeants are also funny. The British Empire has its funny side too. So put them all together and you can't help making an Englishman laugh."

"But it was a patriotic speech!" "Englishmen think them the funniest of all."

"But in Austria, if anyone laughed at a patriotic speech there would be a riot and the man would be arrested."

"That just proves something I have long suspected—that Austria isn't England."

"You know Austria?" "I once spent a few days in Vienna on business."

"Ah, you should have stayed longer and gone to the Semmering and then to Pressburg down the Danube in a steamboat."

"Curious you should mention it, but that was one of my boyhood ambitions. But in a canoe, not a steamboat."

"Oh, but that would be more wonderful still! Why did you not do it?"

One of Joan Bennett's most recent wardrobe acquisitions is a dressy dinner suit of black moire. The pencil slim skirt—which is trimmed with grosgrain tape down the sides like a man's dinner trousers—is topped with a small-dotted pale blue and white chiffon blouse. The blouse has a finely pleated front, giving it a tailored look which is in keeping with the fitted jacket, but also an appearance of femininity because of the sheer material and the color scheme.

In "The Gay Sisters" Barbara Stanwyck wears a pair of smartly tailored lounging pajamas in black silk tulle. The trousers are cut on straight lines, the tunic jacket is collarless and fitted. It is the blouse which gives a touch of frivolity and femininity. It is of white silk bengaline with a V-neckline edged with a ruffle of self fabric. The long, full sleeves are trimmed with the same ruffled edging and peek out from the jacket sleeves.

Ann Sheridan, who is now working opposite Jack Benny in Warner Bros' "George Washington Slept Here," has purchased a gay blouse and hat ensemble of plaid silk taffeta to dress up her monotone suits. The blouse, in colors of beige, green and yellow, has a high, round neckline and pleated front trimmed with tiny green buttons. The hat is a sailor in matching plaid.

One of Geraldine Fitzgerald's favorite blouses is one she likes equally well with slacks or shorts. It is of white sheer cotton. The short puffed sleeves, round neck and front are trimmed with cotton ruffles embroidered in bright-colored thread.

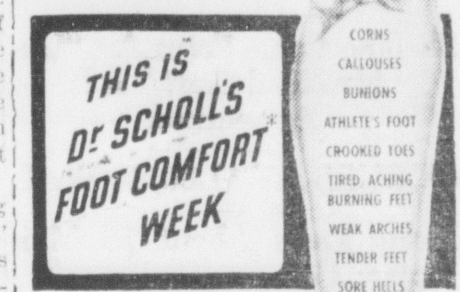

Faye Emerson dresses up a tailored navy blue suit with her white eyelet-embroidered batiste blouse. It features a flattering V-neckline, at which she clips delicate hand-painted china flowers.

Ika Chase, who is working in Warner Bros. "Now, Voyager," the Bette Davis-Paul Henreid starrer, wears a sheer white jersey blouse, featuring a cross-over front, with a tomato-red wool suit. Miss Chase adds a novel touch with a pin composed of three white enameled seashells, striped in gold and having tiny emeralds for their eyes.

FEET HURT?

LEARN HOW TO GET REAL RELIEF!

If you suffer from any of these foot troubles come in during Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Week. Learn how millions of foot sufferers have found relief from Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Shoes, Remedies, Arch Supports and Appliances.

Come in for Free Foot Test

Dr. Scholl Foot Comfort Department

MOFFO'S

311 Mill Street

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

All copy must be received not later than 10 a. m. for publication on that day. Minimum cost, 25 cents. When insertions are not consecutive, one-day rate applies. Special long-term rates furnished upon request.

Announcements

Cards of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK—All those who sent flowers, cards and cars and assisted in any way at the time of our recent bereavement.
MR. WILLIAM COCHRAN AND FAMILY

Funeral Directors

A CONVENIENT PLAN—For moderate funerals. William I. Murphy Est., 316 Jefferson Ave., Bristol, Pa., ph. 2417.

MOLDEN FUNERAL SERVICE—Bristol, Pa. Within the means of all. Phone 2217 or 2169.

Strayed, Lost, Found

LOST—Long-haired dog, tan color, wears collar, 6 mos. old puppy, child's pet. Name "Buddy". Reward. Phone 566.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale

BEFORE YOU BUY—That used car, look at our selection. Simpson Chevrolet, Inc., 222 E. Bridge St., Morrisville.

35 FORD COUPE—Heater. Inspected. Ready to go. $75 cash. Apply 118 Millin St.

Garage for Rent

GARAGE—252 W. Circle. Also piano for sale. Phone Bristol 3107.

Business Service

Building and Contracting

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR—George P. Bailey Phone Bristol 7125.

Repairing and Refinishing

A NEW SERVICE—Don't wait indefinitely for serv. on that small job. Ph. 2100. Robt. Crowell, builder of homes.

REPAIRING—Refinishing, reupholstering furniture, curtains & slip covers made to order; estimates furnished with no obligation. Frederick C. Morrell, Prospect & Station Aves., Langhorne. Phone Langhorne 2028.

Employment

Help Wanted—Female

FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK—Young woman. No laundry. Good wages. Sleep out. Must have references. Write to Box 265, Courier.

GIRL OR WOMAN—For general household work. Apply 337 Cedar street.

GERMAN WOMAN—To tend to invalid in exchange for good home. Amelia Knecht, 1st & Delaware Ave., Crofton.

LADY—Unusual opportunity with National Publishing firm during summer months for college student or teacher. Desire to succeed more essential than experience. $210 for 70 days. Write Box No. 327, Courier.

Help Wanted—Male

EXPER. CALFSKIN SHAVERS—Apply ready for work. Lincoln Tanning Co., 400 Canal St., Reading, Pa.

MAN WANTED—Truck driver. Apply Spencer's Furniture Store, Mill and Radcliffe Sts.

EXPER. ICE MAN—And truck driver. Beck's Ice & Coal Co., 4th Ave. and State Road, Crofton.

MAN—For part time work collecting for large publishing company in Bristol and vicinity. No experience necessary as we train you. Compensation percentage & bonus. Apply by letter only to Mr. A. Hofmann, 19 N. Juniper St., Philadelphia.

BOYS, 2—To work on Rutecki's Farm. Bridgewater & Byberry Roads, Bensalem Township.

Employment

Help Wanted—Male and Female

WANTED—Man or woman to work in kitchen. Good wages. Bristol Oyster House, 449 Mill street.

Merchandise for Sale

Articles for Sale

200 EMPTY GALLON BOTTLES—Fingean's Drug Store, 1614 Farragut avenue.

Building Materials

PLENTY OF USED RED BRICK—We deliver. See J. Gross, Orchard Ave. & State Road, Crofton, Pa. Phone Bristol 3461.

Business and Office Equipment

GLASS COUNTER SHOW CASES—2, 8 ft. long, $12.50 each or $20 for both. L. R. Walton, Andalusia. Telephone Torredale 7021.

Household Goods

BREAKFAST TABLE—Porcelain top, good cond. Robert M. Scott, Bristol Pike, opp. Edgington School. Phone

PARTIES

SOCIAL EVENTS

ACTIVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bevan
Mark Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bevan, of 663 New Buckley street, whose golden wedding anniversary occurs today, were honored at a turkey dinner, served yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Simon, Edgely. The dinner was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Bevan's daughters, Mrs. R. Grimshaw, Philadelphia; Mrs. H. Weidner, Bristol; and Mrs. Simon, Edgely.

Mrs. Bevan, who before her marriage on June 22, 1892, at Trenton, N. J., was Miss Ella McLaughlin, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McLaughlin. Mr. Bevan's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Bevan.

Those served at the dinner: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Simon, Mrs. Catherine Simon, Miss Helen Simon, Edgely; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimshaw, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. John Bala, Jr., Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimshaw, Jr., and son "Jimmy," Mrs. Helen Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Weidner and daughter Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Colville, Bristol.

The couple received many gifts and cards.

In a Personal Way - - -

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings. - - -

To arrange for publication of weddings, telephone "The Bristol Courier," Bristol 846, notifying at least a few days in advance the date of ceremony. Engagement announcements must be submitted in writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Muth and daughter Peggy and son Francis, Jr., Washington street, spent the week-end in Philadelphia with Mrs. Howard Johnson. They also attended a birthday party at the home of Mr. Richard Morrison, Germantown.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy, Mrs. Marvel Durham, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, the Misses Julia McFadden, Katharine Dugan, Angeline Riley, Margaret Dougherty, Katharine Strong, Bristol; Mrs. Anna Wilson, Mrs. Katharine Wilkins, Croyden, members of Catholic Daughters of America, attended the orphans' outing at Woodside Park, Philadelphia, on Wednesday.

Mrs. David Neill, Miss Margaret Neill, and Mrs. John Graham, and Miss Mildred Graham, Beaver street, and Mrs. Wesley Bunting, Wood street, spent Saturday in Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. Frank Clotti, Jefferson avenue, is a patient in the Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia, where she was operated upon Thursday.

Mildred Hirsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hirsch, Spring street, is recuperating from a tonsil operation performed in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J.

Miss Geneva Silber and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kimelman, Philadelphia, were visitors during the past week of Mr.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Eternal God, our Father, as we go out into the world to meet its trials and temptations we come to thee to fortify our spirits with thy strength. We know that in our own strength we cannot overcome, but with Thy Strength coursing through our veins we cannot be overcome! Reveal to us thy Truth; give to us thy Faith; bestow upon us thy Patience; fill us with thy Love. So armed with thy blessings send us forth to live victorious lives in Thy Name. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

and Mrs. Herman Silber, West Circle.

Virginia Wilson, Jacksonville, Fla., was a Saturday guest of Mrs. Teresa Gavegan and Miss Margaret V. Barrett, Beaver street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pitzonka and daughter Louise and son William, spent Tuesday in Lititz, where they attended commencement exercises at Linden Hall. Miss Katharine Pitzonka was a member of the graduating class.

Mrs. Francis Lippincott, Locust street, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Luff, Vineland, N. J.

Mrs. Earl McEuen, Harrison street and Mrs. George McEuen, Bath street, attended the funeral of the latter's sister, Mrs. Margaret Clawges, Burlington, N. J., on Thursday.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson's antics on the Grand screen last night in the newest comedy "Larceny, Inc." kept the audience in a constant state of laughter. Not since "A Slight Case of Murder" and "Brother Orchid" has he brought so much mirth to patrons of the Grand.

In his latest film, Robinson plays the role of a man who is surprised to learn that he can make more money by running a luggage shop than by robbing a bank. And let it be said right here and now, that a finer bit of casting could not be done. Robinson is perfect for the part.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Hailed as the most elaborate as well as the funniest of the Abbott and Costello starring comedies, "Ride 'Em Cowboy" takes over today at the Bristol Theatre. Headliners in the large supporting cast are Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, The Merry Macs and Ella Fitzgerald. Featured musical and dancing aggregations include The Hi-Hatters, The Buckaroo Band and the Ranger Chorus of 40.

RITZ THEATRE

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are with us again—and funnier than ever! Clad in chaps, spur-bedecked boots and ten-gallon hats, the comedians hit a new comedy high in "Ride 'Em Cowboy," which opened yesterday at the Ritz Theatre.

Every indication points to box-office grosses that will surpass the sensational figures piled up by "Buck Privates," "Hold That Ghost" and "Keep 'Em Flying."

AMPS IN PANTS!

MIDLAND ARMY FLYING SCHOOL, Texas—(INS)—To ward off sub-zero temperatures prevailing five or six miles above the clouds, bombardiers and other combat bomber crew members are now equipped with electrically heated suits when out on high altitude missions. Individual controls permit each man to regulate the temperature of his suit.

SUPER-PERSONAL LETTER

WICHITA FALLS, Tex.—(INS)—When Sheppard Field Private Eugene Olson, of Superior, Wis., gets a letter from his girl friend, it doesn't need to be marked "personal."

She writes all her letters on a short-hand-writing machine. Olson operated one of the machines in civilian life, so he reads the missives with ease—but no one else can read them at all.

Ritz Theatre

CROYDEN, PA.

Drive'n the Wild West WILDER!

Bud ABBOTT-LOU COSTELLO
"Ride 'Em Cowboy"

DICK FORAN ANNE GWYNNE
JOHNNY MACK BROWN
THE MERRY MACS
ELLA FITZGERALD
THE HI-HATTERS
THE BUCKAROO BAND
RANGER CHORUS of 40

A Tornado of Tunes!
"I'll Remember April"
"Give Me My Saddle"
"Wake Up Jacob" "A Ticket, A Tasker"

—Tuesday—
ORSON WELLES in
"CITIZEN KANE"

COMFORTABLY COOL

MORE RIP-ROARING FUN

...Than all their
hilarious hits in one!

Extra Aded Featurette!

"WINTER SERENADE"
A Musical Featuring
Milt Herth and Trio
Gloria Jean

PLUS! PLUS!

"LOVABLE TROUBLE"

An Andy Clyde Comedy

"LATE NEWS EVENTS"

Come On, Moviegoers!
Buy War Stamps Here!

OBSTACLE TO BIKE-RIDING

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—Some of the faculty members of Texas Tech do not object to joining a rubber-and-gasoline-saving campaign by taking to bicycles, but there is one definite drawback, a hard-pedaling professor as "It's the Texas wind," he says.

VISIT THE

SAMPLE
HOME

OPEN FROM 2 TO 5 DAILY

AT

BRISTOL TERRACE

FURNISHED BY

SPENCERS

FURNITURE

MILL AND RADCLIFFE STREETS

Building Associations
"SABOTAGE"

A new activity.

An old trick.

A coward's weapon.

Defense Bonds and Stamps will give our Armed Forces food, clothing, arms and ammunition.

Our Associations buy them.

Buy liberally yourself.

Beat the enemy and the saboteur.

Invest in Building Association stock also.

BRISTOL BUILDING ASSOCIATION
HARRIMAN BUILDING ASSOCIATION
CROYDEN BUILDING ASSOCIATION
FIDELITY BUILDING ASSOCIATION
UNION BUILDING & LOAN COMPANY

HOWARD I. JAMES

HORACE N. DAVIS

Solicitors

205 Radcliffe Street

Bristol, Pa.

GRAND MONDAY—Last Times

Bargain Matinee Today at 2.15

"Healthfully Air-Conditioned for Your Comfort"

NOTICE! LOOK! READ!

During the blackout on Tuesday night, June 23rd, this theatre will be open as usual. Tickets will be sold at the box office until 8.30 and thereafter inside the foyer of the theatre. Come and spend an evening in perfect comfort. Shows as usual at 7 and 9 P. M.

A FULL HAND
...without blasin' a safe
—or killin' a cop!

Dynamite
Backfires

...when a crook
blasts a safe—TO PUT HIS MONEY IN!

EDWARD G.
ROBINSON

LARCENY!

JANE WYMAN
BROD CRAWFORD
JACK CARSON
EDWARD BROPHY

COMEDY—
"PLAY GIRL"

SPORT REEL—"SADDLE FILLY"
LATEST NEWS EVENTS

TUES. & WED. — MICHELE MORGAN, PAUL
HENREID in "JOAN OF PARIS"

SERGEANT PAT OF RADIO PATROL

By EDDIE SULLIVAN
and CHARLIE SCHMIDT

"SO I MUST REPORT
THE THINGS I HEAR...
THEY THINK I WOULD BETRAY
THIS LAND I
LOVE... WE SHALL SEE

A SLIP
OF THE LIP
MAY SINK
A SHIP

I WISH TO SPEAK WITH YOU IN THE
BACK ROOM

HEIL!... COME, COME—THE SALUTE!... REMEMBER YOUR MOTHER AND SISTER

...HEIL...

FLEETWINGS NINE BEATS COAST GUARD BY SCORE OF 9 TO 2

Caldwell Does Good Work On
Hill for Airplane
Workers

CADETS PARADE

Short Talks Given Before The Start of The Game

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 22.—The U. S. Coast Guards and the Marines came to town yesterday and both were beaten by teams in this section. The Marines lost to the Turner team, 10-1, while the Fleetwings nine set back the Coast Guardsmen, 9-2. Caldwell did excellent work on the hill for the airplane workers.

Previous to the Fleetwings-Coast Guard game, the Guardsmen were led to the field by the Robert W. Bracken Post Cadets, who then paraded and drilled while both teams stood at attention. After passing in review of the teams, the Cadets marched off the field.

Ceremonies preceded the starting of the contest with short talks being given by Lieutenant Barker, U. S. Air Corps, stationed at Fleetwings; Edward DesLaurier, assistant personnel manager; and Paul Bicklen, editor of the Fleetwings newspaper.

Representing the Robert W. Bracken Post, American Legion, No. 382, Jacob C. Schmidt, welcomed the Coast Guards, and acted as master of ceremonies during the drills and playing of the Cadets.

DIAMOND NINE SCORES WIN OVER S. LANGHORNE

The diamond team of the Bristol Suburban League scored a 5-3 victory over the South Langhorne nine yesterday afternoon on St. Ann's field.

The losers outdid the winners, 12-11, with J. Pizzano getting 3 out of four for the victors. For the Morganmen, "Bill" Dea had a two-bagger and a pair of singles.

The South Langhorne team executed the only triple play seen here this season in the sixth inning. With Kelly and Capriotti on base, Jefferies lined to Marnesi who tagged second and then threw to Pizzano to triple Capriotti.

So. Langhorne	ab	r	e
J. Pizzano	4	0	3	1
Niers	4	0	0	1
Houser	4	0	0	1
North	4	0	0	1
Bishop	4	0	0	1
N. Pizzano	4	1	2	1
E. Sodano	4	1	2	0
Deslorio	4	1	2	0
T. Sodano	4	0	2	0
Narnesi	4	0	0	1
Total	34	3	12	3

BRISTOL SUMMER LEAGUE

Team	W	L	Pct.
Diamond	11	1	.913
Fleetwings	9	3	.750
Lynn's A. S.	7	5	.583
Chris Taxi	6	6	.500
Auto Boys	5	7	.417
Boiler Makers	4	8	.333

BRISTOL SUBURBAN LEAGUE

Team	W	L	Pct.
Edgely	12	1	.923
Diamond	9	4	.692
Voltz-Ten-Ago	7	5	.583
Hunter's	5	7	.417
St. Ann's	3	9	.250
Badenhausen	1	11	.083

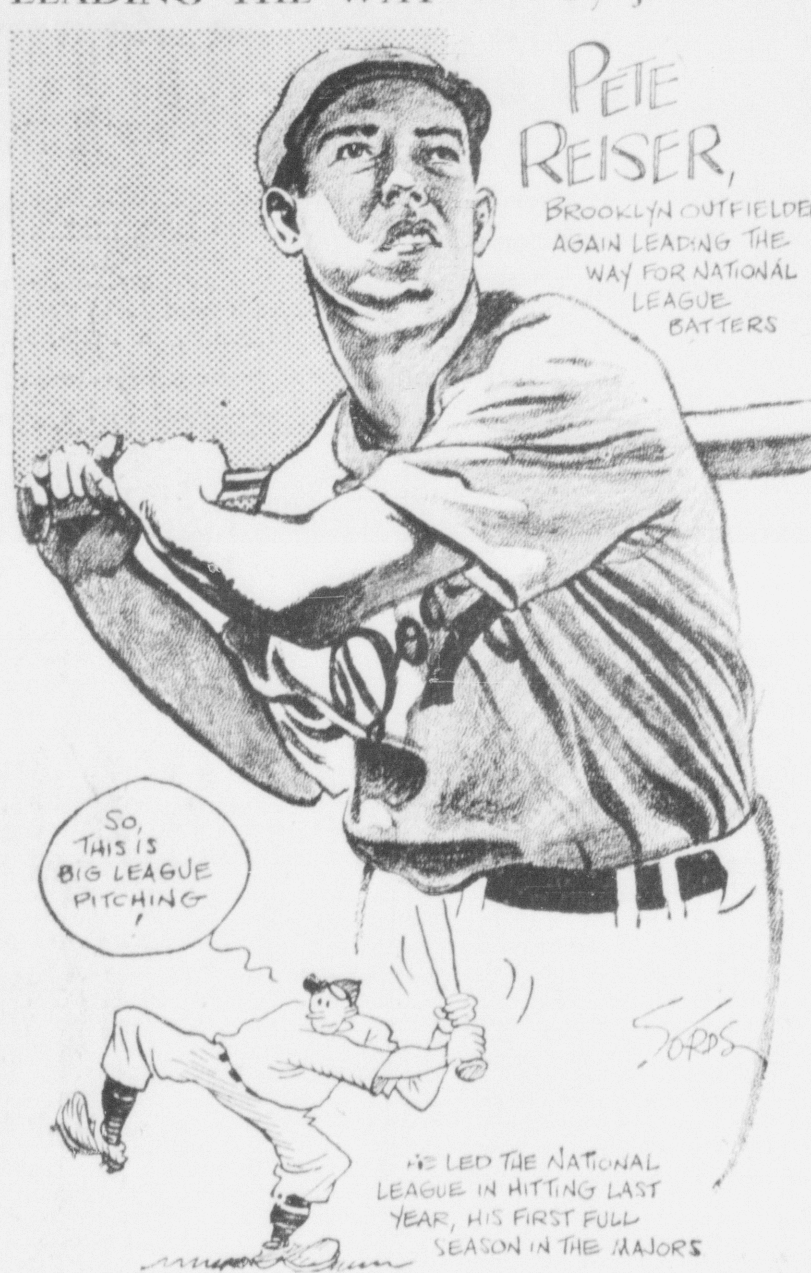

SOFTBALL TONIGHT

In a Bristol Softball League game scheduled for tonight on the Rohm and Haas field, Fifth Ward will meet Franklin. Franklin has seven consecutive wins while Fifth Ward is resting in second place in the standing. The opposing hurlers will most likely be Quindo Gerome, Fifth Ward; and Petermalio, Franklin.

EDGELY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur States are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son Thursday in the Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia. The baby weighed 6 1/2 lbs. Mrs. States will be remembered as the former Miss Doris Lodge, Edgely.

LEADING THE WAY - - By Jack Sords

MAGLIONE TO SEEK THIRD STRAIGHT KNOCKOUT IN BOUT IN ST. ANN'S ARENA HERE TONIGHT

Angelo Tony Maglione, popular Trenton lightweight, will seek his third straight knockout victory tonight in the St. Ann's A. A. arena, Wood and Franklin streets, when he meets Carmen Grasso, Kensington, in a scheduled six-round windup.

Maglione, under the management of Rusby Brooks, is aiming at a crack at Freddie Archer's Jersey lightweight title and now Grasso is the only obstacle in his path. A good performance against Grasso will possibly give Maglione the bout he is seeking with either Freddie Archer or Tippy Larkin.

Grasso has fought both Archer and Larkin, the latter from Garfield, in bouts at the Meadowbrook Bowl, Newark, and on both occasions the results were close. Maglione on the card three weeks ago knocked out Henry Blackwell and previous to that had kayaked Ralph Griffin, of Newark.

Carmen's twin brother, Frankie, is also matched for the outdoor show tonight. This is one of the few times that twin brothers appear on the same boxing card. Frankie is scheduled to fight Ohidah Glover, former Trenton A. A. U. champion.

Frankie recently fought Frank Lowry, former Middle Atlantic A. A. U. champion. Glover was in the show last Monday night when he lost the decision to Sam Corti, Trenton. But most of the fans present thought that Glover had won the bout and was the victim of bad breaks.

The colored boy's bout with Corti was close from start to finish and at the worst Glover should have received a draw, according to most of the fans. Grasso will prove a worthy opponent for Glover and it is most likely that before the six rounds are up, one of the two boys will be on the canvas looking up at the stars.

A "wild man" who needs no introduction to the fans of this section is booked in the semi-windup. He is "Wild Man" Pat Mangini. It was in the St. Ann's arena that Mangini got his start in professional boxing. The Philadelphia boy is matched with Speedy Duval. Mangini mixes comedy with his fighting but recently has been down to serious boxing which he has proved that he can do.

Mangini punches from the floor and that times before throwing a punch would wind up like the baseball pitcher, go through the same motions as a hurler, and then throw the punch. When the blows land, if they do, the boy on the receiving end thinks he has been hit by a railroad train. Mangini has been connecting lately and it will not be surprising if Speedy Duval is in for a tough night.

Henry Blackwell, Philadelphia, who fought Maglione three weeks ago, is back into the Bristol picture. He will fight Joe D'Agostino, Tacony, in a six-round bout. Blackwell was stopped by Maglione and he is anxious to redeem himself in the eyes of the local fight patrons.

In the four-round preliminary bout, Ike Powers, Kensington, is scheduled to fight Emory Cooper, Trenton.

First bout will go on at 8:30 o'clock.

Communion Breakfasts Are Served On Sunday

Continued From Page One

member was presented with a "Victory Pin" as a gift.

During the breakfast, Peggy Fallon, Bristol, rendered "Ave Maria"; piano solo, Norma Ruland; "Lamplighter Serenade," Joan Thompson; piano solo, Jeanne Wong; solo, Miss Emeline Cutugno.

The guests attending the breakfast were: Rev. Joseph Diamond; Miss Marie Stone, District Deputy of Senior

C. D. of A., Philadelphia; Miss Julia McFadden, grand regent; Miss Elizabeth Tryon, Miss Beattie Rafferty and Miss Margaret Murphy, Mary Jane Clark.

The breakfast was in charge of Mrs. George Beneman, Mrs. Walter Barker, Mrs. Timothy Coyne, Mrs. Francis Hafele, Mrs. Henry Lineman, Mrs. Wesley Williamson, Mrs. Irvin Wong, Mrs. Anna Wilson and Miss Margaret Beneman, Croydon. The menu consisted of Tomato juice cocktail, cereal and creamed dried beef on toast, milk, coffee, ice cream and cookies.

Eight Serve Here As Wedding Attendants

Continued From Page One

skirts being enhanced with circular ruffles of tulle. The maids wore silver slippers; and pink feather head-dresses. Each carried an arm bouquet of mixed flowers. The blue pearl necklaces and matching bracelets which the young women wore were gifts from the bride.

The men in the bridal party wore black trousers, white coats, and carnation boutonnieres.

A large number of relatives and friends were received by the newlyweds at Mutual Aid Hall last evening. Mr. Hart and bride are participating in a week's journey to Niagara Falls, N. Y. The bride's choice for her traveling costume included a silk crepe dress of navy blue, with yellow packet, yellow straw hat with navy trim; yellow handbag and slippers. Her corsage was composed of orchids. The couple will live in their newly-furnished home at 911 Mansion street.

The groom's gifts to his attendants were bill-folds.

Enemy Shelling of Oregon Coast-Line is Revealed

Continued From Page One

(June 21) the Fourth Army stated and lasted for about 15 minutes. No damage nor casualties were reported.

The Army said the shelling came from an "unidentified craft" off shore. Text of the Fourth Army's communique announcing the shelling of Oregon was as follows:

"Six to nine shells landed in the area north of Seaside, Ore., at approximately 11:30 (PWT) last night (June 21, 1942), apparently from an unidentified craft off shore.

"The firing lasted about fifteen minutes.

"No damage or casualties were reported."

The shells landed north of Seaside, Ore., which is about 15 miles from the Columbia River's mouth. The attack followed by 25 hours a "nuisance" raid by a submarine, presumably Japanese, against Vancouver Island, Canada.

It was the second attack on the American mainland in this war, shells from a Japanese submarine having fallen near Santa Barbara, Calif., months ago.

While availing the enemy nothing—no damage or casualties were reported in the Oregon raid—the attack came at a time when there were dark spots in the United Nations outlook, in its worldwide battle against the forces of the aggressor nations.

Shelling of the Oregon coast presumably by a Japanese submarine was interpreted today by military observers as an enemy attempt to throw the northwest Pacific area into a panic and possibly force diversion of American planes and warships from the Hawaiian and Alaskan areas to the mainland.

The belief was bolstered by the fact that the shells were not directed at the military objectives or war plant installations. The attack on the American shoreline followed shortly after a submarine pumped several rounds onto Canada's Vancouver Island, north of Seattle, Wash.

Coming Events

Organizations whose announcements are printed in this column can reciprocate by having all printing in connection with announced events done by the publishers of this paper. Information must be complete when first given as alterations cannot be made after they have once been put into type.

June 25—Covered dish luncheon, given by Ladies Auxiliary of Union Fire Co., for Red Cross, 12:30 p. m., in the fire station.

PLENTY TO DO

NORTH BRANCH, N. Y. — (INS) — Private Edward Zieres, immediately after induction at Camp Upton, L. I., convinced the Army that he had a couple of thousand things to do before he turned his hand actively to war.

They gave him ten days to accomplish everything, and he did. He returned home here and sold his 2,000 chickens.

IN LINE OF DUTY

LAWRENCE, Mass. — (INS) — You can count on the Lawrence police to do a job thoroughly.

"Everything taken care of," was the answer flashed back to headquarters a few minutes after a cruiser crew was called upon to go to a Lawrence home and "eject" a field mouse that had taken possession of the kitchen.

Cornwells Residents Are Wed at Eddington

Continued From Page One

Welker, Lawndale, was attired in baby blue chiffon, the gown having lace panels. Her picture hat was of a matching shade as were also her satin slippers. Miss Welker carried a bouquet of mixed flowers with talisman roses predominating.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Florence Ferguson, Oak Lane; and Betty Shaw, Philadelphia. Their gowns were made like that of the maid of honor, one wearing pink and one yellow. They carried bouquets of pink roses, with mixed blossoms blending.

Mr. Walker gave his daughter in marriage.

The best man was Mr. George Effing, Bristol, a brother of the groom; and ushers were inclusive of Mr. John Effing, Swarthmore, another brother of the groom; and Mr. Harry Linker, Cornwells Heights.

Mrs. Walker, mother of the bride, wore a gown of poudre blue with accessories of white. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The church was attractive in decorations of palms and spring flowers. Mr. Elmer B. VanSant, the vocalist (or the occasion, sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "Because."

He was accompanied by Miss Edna Heimer, Norristown, who also rendered a program of suitable selections prior to the ceremony, and played the bridal marches.

A reception was held at Verdi's Restaurant, Philadelphia. Upon their return from a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Effing will reside with the bride's parents here.

Mock Air Raid at Croydon Proves To Be Great Success

Continued From Page One

to the Croydon school, which has been set up temporarily as their center of activity and which is also the control center. Each of the chiefs were stationed at the control center and handed out orders to their various organizations under the direction of Louis C. Surrick, control office chief.

Prior to the sounding of the alarm, twenty-two members of the Girl Scout organization were tagged with shipping tags, denoting various injuries and taken in station wagons to all parts of the area where they were dropped off to be found by a warden or police and their "injuries" treated.

The girls were cautioned to keep their tags hidden until after the warning whistles sounded and were then to display their tags and lie down along the roadside or on a porch. All of these "injuries" were discovered and treated and then sent to first-aid stations which had been set up in various parts of the area.

Members of the Bucks County Rescue Squad gave a fine performance in the use of their personnel and equipment. Eight "serious cases" were found by wardens and police and notice was dispatched to the control center, where it was forwarded to the Squad home and the ambulance dispatched. Three station wagons were also used to help in these transportation. The serious cases were "treated" by Dr. A. Gonzalez with the help of Rescue Squad nurses. Temporary first-aid by the wardens and police was also passed on by the doctor and a report made.

One member of the Rescue Squad was placed in each first-aid center to pass judgment on the first-aid work done by the defense units. While many minor errors were noted by the first-aid unit their praise for the work done by wardens and police was reassuring.

Probably one of the swiftest records ever set in these parts was recorded by the firemen. At 2:22 o'clock they received a call from the control center that a "fire" was raging at Emille and Pennsylvania avenues. At exactly 2:24 they were playing water on the imaginary fire which was located six squares from the fire house. At 2:26 the big pumper was in action and at 2:30 Goodwill Hose Co., of Bristol, pulled into the Croydon fire house to stand by. Major Bryson was particularly pleased with this showing, and highly commended this group for their part in the action.

One of the most amazing discoveries in the whole "show" came through the Boy Scout messenger service when it was learned that in a number of cases, boys on bicycles were able to beat phone calls to the control center with messages. Boys pedaled over the roads in almost unbelievable record-breaking time to bring messages of "casualties" and "evacuations" before zone leaders were able to get their phone calls into the center. Deputy Warden James E. Harris stated: "Certainly if this mock raid had done nothing else, it has proven to the officials the real value of the bicycle messenger service." Hot and perspiring Boy Scouts traveled back and forth over the roads of the area, carrying messages from the zone headquarters to the control center, in untiring regularity. Compliments to Albert B. Stiles, their Scoutmaster, who has trained the youngsters, came from all officials present.

A sub-control center was set up in Croydon Manor under the supervision of William Waiman, emergency police chief in that section. His station was located in the home of Robert Cairns, and wardens and police in that area dispatched all messages to him and he in turn forwarded them to the control center for action.

Emergency police captured a dozen "looters" and "saboteurs" who were known by the paper hats they were wearing. According to Police Chief, Paul Wilson, none of these escaped, and all were caught in action before any damage could be done.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

received a call from the control center that a "fire" was raging at Emille and Pennsylvania avenues. At exactly 2:24 they were playing water on the imaginary fire which was located six squares from the fire house. At 2:26 the big pumper was in action and at 2:30 Goodwill Hose Co., of Bristol, pulled into the Croydon fire house to stand by. Major Bryson was particularly pleased with this showing, and highly commended this group for their part in the action.

One of the most amazing discoveries in the whole "show" came through the Boy Scout messenger service when it was learned that in a number of cases, boys on bicycles were able to beat phone calls to the control center with messages. Boys pedaled over the roads in almost unbelievable record-breaking time to bring messages of "casualties" and "evacuations" before zone leaders were able to get their phone calls into the center. Deputy Warden James E. Harris stated: "Certainly if this mock raid had done nothing else, it has proven to the officials the real value of the bicycle messenger service." Hot and perspiring Boy Scouts traveled back and forth over the roads of the area, carrying messages from the zone headquarters to the control center, in untiring regularity. Compliments to Albert B. Stiles, their Scoutmaster, who has trained the youngsters, came from all officials present.

A sub-control center was set up in Croydon Manor under the supervision of William Waiman, emergency police chief in that section. His station was located in the home of Robert Cairns, and wardens and police in that area dispatched all messages to him and he in turn forwarded them to the control center for action.

Emergency police captured a dozen "looters" and "saboteurs" who were known by the paper hats they were wearing. According to Police Chief, Paul Wilson, none of these escaped, and all were caught in action before any damage could be done.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.

Many evacuees were brought to the Croydon school, where Red Cross workers under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Fredericks issued cards in lieu of food and clothing.

Jacob Schmidt, when talking to the workers in the school after the "all-clear" had sounded, said he was "more than pleased with the manner in which every one worked. I am certain," he said, "that there is not another group in the county which is better organized than you folks here in the Croydon Council area. Certainly they could not have worked with better harmony and speed than was shown here today. It was a wonderful showing of organization and I am proud to be one of you."

Chief Robert Downing also spoke to the group and complimented them on a "wonderful job well done." "We know there are many 'kinks' to be straightened out but time alone will help us do that," he said. "Keep up the good work here in this area. You are doing a fine job."

All defense units were instructed to be on the job for the dusk to dawn blackout Tuesday evening. Once again the control center will go into action and will be open all night to receive any messages from the field.

Twelve trucks and three station wagons were available to Frank Friel, commander of the transportation unit, and were kept in constant use hauling in refugees from "bombed" houses, taking care of evacuations and assisting in carrying "casualties" to first-aid stations.